MAKES REPORT PUBLIC TODAY

Gilbert Hendren Makes Accounting to Governor of Work of State Board of Accounts.

STATE LAW IS COMMENDED

Total Expense of Department During Last Fiscal Year $226,470.90.

Report Reveals.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Dec. 28.—The many critics of the Indiana public accounting law and its administration will find little to please them in the fourth annual report of the State Board of Accounts as submitted to Governor Ralston by Gilbert H. Hendren, state examiner, and made public today. The report covers the period between Oct. 1, 1912, and Sept. 30, 1914, and is highly commendatory to the law. It contains statements by the four originators of the law and from the two examiners appointed by the Governor, who inspected the administration of the accounts of the various state, county and township officers.

The report shows that the total expense of the department during the last fiscal year was $226,470.90 incident to the examining of 6,522 public offices and institutions throughout the state, helping to establish a uniform system of accounts, aiding through the legal department of hundreds of officials and preventing waste and diversion of public funds, according to the report.

During the same period of time, the report says, there was recovered from delinquent officials in cash the sum of $186,044.25, and pending on the dockets in process of settlement, $181,963.45. It is declared that the cash amount, taken with the collections from the amount on the books, will considerably more than defray the entire expense of the department.

While in some counties, the report says, but few errors are found, and the expense of the examination must be paid, the taxpayers have the satisfaction of knowing that their officials are honest and efficient and that their accounts are that their accounts are clean. In many other counties, according to the report, the errors found amount to three and four times the expense of examination.

The report adds:

"Thus it appears that even the man who never sees any good in any law, except the visible dollars and cents, should be satisfied with the results of last year's examination by the State Board of Accounts."

A letter from the farmers of the bill—William C. Bobbs, heads of the firm of Bobbs-Merrill Co.; Evans Wollen, president of the Fletcher Savings and Trust Co.; Hugh Dougherty, vice president of that company, and James W. Noel, Indianapolis attorney, written by Mr. Hendren, congratulates him "on" what appears to be most efficient administration of this very important law" and declares that the law "is conceded to be a model of its kind and superior to the accounting law of any state in the union."

"It seems to us" the letter says;

"that this law has entirely fulfilled the prophecy of those who labored so hard for its enactment and that it has entirely justified the hope of the business men of the state that public business might be carried on with the care and economy necessary to make private and corporate business successful."

"The beneficial effects of the operation of this law and the fine administration of your department cannot be recounted in a short letter. The enactment of the Accounting Law marks a new epoch in the conduct of the public business, and we simply desire to express our satisfaction which have ensued."

This department was examined by faction with the practical results order of Governor Ralston, who appointed Harry L. Arnold, a democrat and John E. Reed, Republican, both accountants, to go over the books of the department and look into its methods. Mr. Reed is vice president and general manager of the Farmers' Trust Company and Mr. Arnold was for nine years with the Elkhart National bank. Their report is printed in Hendren's report. The following are some excerpts:

"Hon. Gilbert H. Henderson, by reason of his acquired knowledge with regard to the duties of public officers is a valued public servant and ideally equipped to perform the important duties incumbent upon the office of State Examiner.

"We have carefully examined the list of examiners retained and those dismissed and find that Mr. Hendren gives everybody a square deal, regardless of political affiliations."

The present force of field examiners has been selected with care and under safeguards of an examination as prescribed by law."

Twenty-one Player Rule of Big Leagues Will Cut Off Many Promising Players.

NO CHANCE TO SHOW WORTH

Central Association and Three League Still Furnish Market With Good Players.

(Written for United Press.)
BY HAL SHERIDAN.

New York, Dec. 28.—The twenty-one player limit invoked by the National League at its recent meeting here will cut off many a promising youngster from his chances with a big team. Practically every team in the league has already signed from thirty to fifty players. The number must be cut to twenty-one by May 1. Many of the youngsters whom managers would like to retain during the season will get the ax before they have an opportunity of showing their worth!

The Central Association and the Three-I League are still furnishing the player market with "comers." W. L. Flannigan, who pitched for the Muscatine team last year in the Central Association, has been signed by the Giants. His six feet odd inches of height and a lightening like delivery are said to be his features. McGraw also signed up Eddie Holloway from the Springfield team of the Three-I league. Last year Holloway made good as a fast man and a hard hitter.

Around the lobbies of the Waldorf and the Imperial during the meetings of the National and International Leagues here were seen many of the western big leaguers, released after years of baseball service. Mike Donlin and Wiltse of the Giants were hand pondering their prospects for the coming season. Both were gingerly fingering their unconditional release. Germany Schaffer, the comedian of the Washington Club, will be missed next year. Many a laugh burst from the fans when Germany was indulging in his favorite "horse play."

SPECIAL MUSIC
AT CHURCHES

Sermons by Rushville Pastors Are Also Appropriate to the Spirit of the Season.

FORMER MUSICIANS HERE

A. D. Batchelor Declares That Christ Was the Only Truly Versatile Man Who Ever Lived.

The Sunday schools of the city gave their members their annual Christmas treat yesterday. The custom has been to remember the members of the school at the Christmas entertainments but this year they were called off on account of some cases of scarlet fever here.

At least one of the sermons at all of the churches yesterday dealt with the topic of the season. Special Christmas music was also the rule. There were special programs at the Main Street Christian church Sunday morning and evening by former Rushville musicians who are here for the holidays which attracted large crowds. In the morning of the Christian church the Rev. Walter E. Frazee of Louisville, Ky., preached on "The Call For Life."

Yesterday was the last Sunday the First Presbyterian church will be without a pastor for the Rev. D. Ira Lambert of Cincinnati will take up his duties here next Sunday, the first of the new year. The Rev. Wm. McKibbin of Lane Theological seminary of Cincinnati spoke there twice yesterday.

The sermons at the United Presbyterian church were very appropriate. In the morning the Rev. A. W. Jamie son spoke on "The Lapse of a Year" and in the evening, "The Early Life of Christ." There was a special musical program at the M. E. church last night, with a short talk by the pastor.

The Christmas exercises that were to have been given by the United Presbyterian Sabbath school were held yesterday, morning and last night. It was essentially a quaint exercise and the "White-Gifts-for-Our-King" program was used.

At the morning service one person gave herself and many rededicated themselves to Christ and numerous pledges of service along various lines of church activity were made. The cash pledges amounted to almost fifty dollars, twenty dollars of which was given for obtaining additional equipment for the primary department, the remainder going to the various missionary and educational enterprises of the church. In the evening an illustrated lecture on the early life of Christ was given.

Yesterday morning at St. Paul's Methodist church, the Rev. A. D. Batchelor had for his theme, "The Greatness of Christ." The text was Luke: 32, "He shall be great and of his kingdom there shall be no end."

He said in part: "The world honors its great men. True greatness can never be suppressed. Sooner or later a great man's achievements will be acknowledged. When the world has once found a great man it makes pilgrimages to the place of his birth, to the haunts of his childhood, to the field of his work, and to his last resting place—his tomb. What does all this mean but that the world tries to get nearer to the great man, that it may discover the secret of his power, and perchance get an inspiration from his life? At most this is a one-sided work; for men are great in only particular lines. One becomes a great warrior, another a statesman, another financier, and another an inventor. There are a thousand highways to greatness and to fame. But there was one who would have succeeded in any vocation, who would have adorned any profession. He was the only truly versatile man who ever lived. His greatness does not decline with any age. Each succeeding generation marvels at the range of his wonderful powers. His name was Jesus.

The prophet said he "shall be great and of his kingdom there shall be no end."

He was a prophet. The world has always counted its prophets as its greatest men. The prophet was a forth-teller more than a fore-teller. The prophets were first called seers. They saw things which were hidden from other men. Ruskin said, "The greatest thing that a human soul owner does in this world is to see something and tell it in a plain way—to see clearly it poetry, prophesy and religion." Jesus was a prophet. He saw deeply and clearly. Moreover he had the ruggedness of the prophet. We have let his gentleness obscure for us this element in his life. But a close study of the gospels reveals a refreshing ruggedness in his life. He boldly drove the money changers out of the temple, and defiantly reproved the sins of hypocritical Pharisees. This is why the common people heard him gladly, and why thou came to believe in him. John the Revelator, had the true view of him when he wrote, "The testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy."

He was also great because he was a poet. Carlyle wrote, "Poetry we call musical thought. The poet is he who thinks in that manner. It is a man's sincerity and depth of vision that makes him a poet." Jesus was in every sense of the word a poet. He had a poet's vision of the harmony of things. He saw more clearly than any other the confusion and disorder sin had brought into the world. He saw the harmony of the divine life and how this alone would bring men into supreme happiness. He also had the poet's lyrical expression. The sermon on the Mount is a poem and can easily be divided into metrical sentences. What poet ever uttered or wrote anything superior to Jesus' words, "Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin; yet I say unto that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these."

Again, he was great because he was a king. In the text he is so designated. Moreover the greatness of his kingship was measured by the fact that his kingdom was never to end. The word king comes from "caunning." It means "the man who can," or the man who is able." The world is gradually renouncing the old doctrine of the divine right of kings. Some day it will forever put aside the thought that men must succeed to kingship through the accident of birth. History shows that too many "accidents" have befallen kingdoms which took the doctrine literally. The future nations will demand able men for rulers—the men who "can." In this sense Jesus is the world's greatest king. His whole history is the story of one who "could." Nothing was too hard for him. He was sufficient for all trials and tests. Of all the inhabitants of heaven he alone was able to break the seal and to save a world from its sin. He was able for the crucifixion and the resurrection. "He is able also to save them to the uttermost who come to God by him." No other has been able to do this. He stands alone in his greatness.

CHARLES F. MANN DIES SUDDENLY

POSTOFFICE DOES GREATER BUSINESS

Posey Township Farmer Expires of Peritonitis at Age of Fifty and Funeral is Held Today.

LEAVES WIDOW AND TWO SONS

Charles F. Mann, age fifty years, died rather unexpected at his home in Posey township Saturday evening of peritonitis. There were contributing causes to his death, however. Last summer, Mr. Mann was struck by lightning, and from the effects of this he never fully recovered. In addition to this, he suffered from rheumatism and had been stricken slightly with paralysis. He had been in poor health for some time, but became seriously ill only last Thursday morning, and the members of the family were little expecting the call of the death angel when it entered the home and took away the husband and father.

Decedent was a son of the late George and Hannah Mann, and was born on July 11, 1864, in Shelby county, Ohio. When he was quite young, his parents removed to Shelby county, Indiana, where he spent nearly all of his life, removing to his late home in Rush county only a few years ago.

Mr. Mann is survived by two sons, a widow, two brothers and one sister. The funeral services were held this afternoon at two o'clock at Forest Hill chapel with the Rev. Alphonso Burns of Gwynneville officiating. Burial was in Fort Hill cemetery.

Dr. Gilberts Sunday school class will have a business meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30, at the home of Mrs. H. V. Logan, in North Main street. Each member is urged to be present.

Employees Convinced Increase
Amounted to at Least One-Third
More During This Christmas.

PARCEL POST IS THE CAUSE

Since the employees of the post office have had a chance to get their breath and take stock of what they accomplished during the Christmas rush, they are certain in their own minds that they handled far more mail during the holiday season this year than ever before in the history of the post office in Rushville. Although they did not take the time to keep accurate account of all of the parcels handled during the rush, the best estimate placed on the business done at least one-third more packages passed through the Rushville post office this year.

The rural mail carriers, too, were swamped with the large number of parcels which they delivered and collected. The increase from year to year is due to the increasing popularity of the parcel post system. The stamp sale was larger this year, indicating the outgoing business was much greater because parcel post system. The stamp sale was larger this year, indicating the outgoing business was much greater because parcel post rates have been decreased since last year. The mail is still heavy as the result of delayed Christmas gifts, but it is nothing compared to what it was just before Christmas.

PERKINS CASE IN JURY'S HANDS

Fate of Alleged Bootlegger Rests With Twelve Men Hearing Evidence This Afternoon.

THREE WITNESSES TESTIFY

Defendant Denies Sale But Rosencrance and Alexander West State Transaction Was Made.

The fate of Greeley Perkins, charged with selling intoxicating liquor without a license, was still in the hands of the jury at four o'clock this afternoon. At this time the jury had been out for over an hour and because of this many believed that a disagreement would result.

Perkins waited until the last minute and asked for a jury trial. Because of this the trial of Frank Butts, on a similar charge was postponed until Tuesday afternoon at one-thirty o'clock. Butts is out on bond for $100. The case against Perkins hinged on whether there had been a sale.

There were but three witnesses. Chief Rosencrance testified that he saw Alexander West hand Perkins some money and shortly afterward Perkins came back with two half-pint bottles of whiskey. The alleged transaction took place in the rear of the August Roth pool room in East First street, Christmas morning.

Alexander West, the principal witness against Perkins, lives in Gwynneville and testified that Perkins came to him Christmas morning in the Roth place and said he could get him some whiskey if West would give him fifty cents. West stated to the court that he gave Perkins the money and that he was handed two half-pints of whiskey.

West stated that later in the day Perkins borrowed twenty-five cents to purchase more whiskey. Perkins did not have a lawyer and questioned West concerning the alleged transaction. Perkins maintained that West was about half drunk and took him down the alley and gave him a drink out of the bottle he carried.

Perkins testified on his own behalf and stated that he did not buy the whiskey and that West gave him a drink out of his bottle telling him that "it was good old Kentucky stuff." The trial did not last long and no difficulty was had in getting the jury as the first twelve men sent to the mayor's office were accepted. A large crowd was on hand to hear the evidence.

SALOONS ARE DYNAMITED

Officials Investigate Explosion at Hymera, Ind., Today.

(By United Press.)

Sullivan, Ind., Dec. 28.—The town of Hymera was severely shaken early today by explosions of dynamite that destroyed two saloons and an adjoining meat market. Scores of business houses were badly damaged. Sheriff Kelley has gone to Hymera and the state fire marshall's office have been notified. It is believed enemies of Walter Wilson, son of the saloon keepers, committed the outrage. The loss to the three buildings which were burned totaled $1,500.

Hays Stafford Lays Blame For Injury on One Armed Man.

Hays Stafford sustained a broken leg this morning while engaged in a fight with Ed Bowen, a one-armed man, at the Hiner barn in East Second street. During the scuffle Stafford twisted his leg and the bone snapped. The break was just above the ankle. It is not known what the men were fighting over but Stafford told the police he would file an affidavit against Bowen. Stafford said at the time the bone was broken Bowen held one of his hands in his teeth. Stafford says it's all a mistake about a one-armed man being harmless.

CRIMINAL CASES DISMISSED TODAY

Prosecutor and Judge Anxious to Get Dockets and Records in Shape For Successors.

DIVORCE CASE DISMISSED

A number of criminal cases of minor importance were dismissed in the circuit court today on motion of Prosecutor Smith. Both the judge and prosecutor are anxious to get the dockets and records in shape for their successors. The terms of both Judge Megee and Donald Smith expire January 1. The case against Roseoe Ward for aiming firearms and the one against Berry Osborn for provoke, sent to the circuit court from the squire's court were dismissed. Osborne and the Wards had trouble over a line fence and a lame and the trouble ended in court.

Other cases dismissed were those for obstructing a highway against Henry Hungerford, Clyde Barlow and Elmer Hungerford.

Judge Megee denied the plaintiff a new trial in the case of Edwin McGraw against the estate of Lovisa Matney. It was a claim demanding $257 and the jury found for the estate.

The divorce suit of Mrs. Sarah Carr against Leroy Carr was dismissed this morning by Mrs. Carr.

LINDLEY M. MOORE ASKS FOR RECEIVER

Carthage Man Files Suit Demanding Dissolution of Partnership and an Accounting.

SAYS PARTNER GOT PREMIUMS

Lindley M. Moore, has filed suit against Paul Cooper asking for an accounting, dissolution of partnership and for the appointment of a receiver. The firm has been doing an insurance business in Carthage under the name of Moore & Cooper, and according to the complaint, the partners were to share alike in the profits.

Mr. Moore alleges that Cooper has collected all the premiums for fire insurance and has retained all of the money for his own use. He states that as near as he can estimate if there is due him about $1,200 in money this collected by Cooper. He states that the business is good and that unless a receiver is appointed to take charge of the business it will be lost. He demands an accounting to get the amount of money alleged to be due him.

BODY OF DEAD INFANT FOUND

C. H. & D. Freight Train Crew Discovers Corpse in Car at Fountaintown and Brings it Here.

IS BURIED BY CORONER HERE

Theory is Advanced That Child's Body Was Placed in Car at Indianapolis—Head Mashed.

A strange case was called to the attention of local officers early Sunday morning when the train crew of eastbound C. H. & D. freight train No. 87 left the body of a baby at the station here. The body was found in Fountaintown and brought on to this city.

The body was that of a white child, a girl, of premature birth and is believed to have been placed in the car in Indianapolis. When the train took the siding in Fountaintown one of the brakemen inspected the train, and finding a door of a box car open, flashed a light inside looking for hobos. He found a pasteboard box and took it on back to the caboose where he presented it to the conductor, telling him it was a Christmas present.

When the box was opened the body was found. The train crew was puzzled as to what to do with the body as there was not one up in Fountaintown at that time in the morning it was brought on to this city. The train arrived here about two-fifteen o'clock Sunday morning. Coroner Barnett was called and took charge of the body.

The officials have no clew and will not likely get any as to who placed the child in the box car. It is believed that the mother took this means of riding herself of the child and placed it in the car while the train was in the Indianapolis yards. The car in which the box was found was picked up in Indianapolis and it is quite likely that the child was placed in the car in that city.

The infant was perfectly formed with the exception of the head, which was mashed. The body was frozen when found but from the condition it was believed that it was placed there Saturday night before the train left Indianapolis. There is nothing the local officers can do to locate the mother of the child as there was nothing in the box giving the slightest clew. Coroner Barnett buried the infant today.

SNOW BEGINS TO LEAVE

Moderation in Temperature Has a Visible Effect Today.

The continual hack, hack, hack of the shovel against the sidewalk was audible all over Rushville today. It was moderating, that was the reason, and Rushville took the first opportunity it has had to rid itself of the thick coating of ice with which it has been covered since a week ago today. Although the mercury only arose to thirty-eight degrees above zero, it seemed much warmer than that after the continued cold weather which has prevailed here. The high temperature made the snow disappear faster today than it has any one day since the first snow fell two weeks ago.

Word has reached this city, that a girl was born to the wife of Albert G. Schmidt, last Saturday, at their home in Cincinnati. Mrs. Schmidt was formerly Miss Leona Vance of this city.

CANNON STARTS WATSON BOOM

Washington Dispatch Says Former Speaker is Suggesting Rushville Man For Presidency.

IN NO UNCERTAIN TERMS

Many Excellent Qualities of Former Congressman Are Enumerated—Indiana Battleground.

The information that Joseph G. Cannon, former speaker of the house who was recently re-elected to the national house representatives, is boasting James E. Watson of this city for the Republican nomination for president is contained in the following dispatch from Washington to the Herald of LaPorte, Ind.:

James E. Watson of Rushville, Ind., now has a presidential boom. Its authorship is credited to Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois. "Uncle Joe" has been spending some time in Washington and he has taken occasion to let it be known that his friend Watson meets his ideas of an ideal candidate to lead the Republican party in the next presidential battle. "Uncle Joe's" views are spoken with such earnestness as to convince those with whom he has talked that good deal will be heard later concerning the Watson presidential boom. "Uncle Joe" is the most distinguished and influential of the come-backers and in the past he has been a power in promoting political prospects of friends to whom he was devoted. It was "Uncle Joe" who made James S. Sherman vice president of the United States. After Roosevelt was nominated for president "Uncle Joe" declared a conservative should be named for vice president. He picked Sherman and the convention ratified his choice.

In behalf of Watson as a presidential quantity it is cited that geographically and strategically he is in a fine position to make the race, inasmuch as Indiana will be a battleground of first importance in the presidential contest; that he is a man of large experience in legislative and governmental affairs and the fact is not overlooked that at the Chicago national convention of 1912, when he was the floor leader for the conservatives, he made a good impression among the delegates assembled from every part of the country.

Watson has long been one of Cannon's closest friends. Their relations were such that when Cannon was speaker Watson used to drop in at his house at all hours of the day and night and was regarded almost as one of the family. When the speaker got a bit lonely or sentimental he would send for Watson and have the Hoosier sing to him all the real old-fashioned hymns in the song-books. "Uncle Joe" frequently declared in those days that Watson's singing came nearer being real music than anything he ever listened to. He would not exchange it for all the grand opera and pipe organ productions in the world.

Since "Uncle Joe" proposed Watson's name political Washington has been watching for developments. It is believed that events within a year will show a movement on foot to capture delegates for the Indiana.

LECTURE TONIGHT.

Mrs. Demarchus C. Brown of Indianapolis will lecture at the Graham school building assembly room tonight at seventy-thirty o'clock on the topic, "Mary Queen of Scots." The lecture will be the first of the series she is giving here this winter to be illustrated and for this reason a larger crowd than usual is expected.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Senator Kern commented today on the Terre Haute arrests. "It was known to the Indiana senators when Frank C. Dailey was selected as district attorney that he was not only an able lawyer, but was absolutely fearless and incorruptible," he said. "I feel quite sure that Mr. Dailey has been impelled by a sense of duty in what he has done though I have not time to look into the matter."

WILL GIVE BOND FOR HIS RELEASE

Mayor Donn M. Roberts of Terre Haute Has Arranged for $10,000 Bond, Announced Today.

HIS WIFE IS RESPONSIBLE

Twenty-one Others, All Brought to Indianapolis Saturday Night, Are Still in Jail.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 28.—Mrs. Donn M. Roberts, wife of the mayor of Terre Haute, visited the office of United States Marshal Storen today and conversed with Mr. Storen for an hour concerning bond for her husband who is held on a federal indictment charging conspiracy to corrupt the Terre Haute election. Following her visit it was said bond for $10,000 signed by a surety company would probably be presented this afternoon. Mrs. Roberts visited her husband in the jail.

Twenty-one men are still in jail, having failed to give bond. It is said that over one hundred were indicted. Nearly one hundred have been arrested.

Mayor Roberts was one of twenty-two who were brought here last Saturday at midnight from Terre Haute on two special cars after having been confined in a Terre Haute hotel all day Saturday. Roberts sulked in his cell in "U. S. row" and refused to make an effort to provide bond for his release. When Sunday came he found it not so pleasant to spend the day in jail and decided to attempt to provide bond. Mrs. Roberts came here Sunday and obtained a blank bond, but was informed that no bonds would be considered on Sunday.

Marshal Storen said late yesterday afternoon that no more arrests had been made in connection with the Federal investigation, and that none of the men held here had provided bonds up to that time.

All of the twenty-two men in jail were to be given opportunities to provide bonds again today, and as soon as bonds are prepared that are satisfactory to the United States

This meant one Turkish ship against seventeen of the enemy. Nevertheless the Turkish ship attacked and bombarded the battleship Rostixlaw and sank the two mine-layers. Two officers and thirty marines were saved and made prisoners.

"At the same time other parts of our fleet successfully bombarded Batum.

"Our army continues its victorious advance along the Caucasian front."

Some Good Advice

Here is some advice given to merchants who think they are cutting down expenses when they top advertising.

The speaker is a very eminent authority. He says:

"Your advertising—if it is advertising worthy of the name—is your best salesman, and you don't hesitate to lay it off indefinitely because business was bad yesterday."

"Your advertising is a bigger factor in your business than your location—and you'll move it down a back street or wipe your advertising location off the city map because you're not feeling right today."

"Your advertising is the big sign over your door and you'll take it down and store it in the cellar; your advertising is your most economical tax for insurance against loss, and yet you'll lightly 'SAVE'—God save the mark!—that expense for a few days if your dinner or business conditions don't exactly suit you."

"Advertising is a great force in business and many great and many foolish claims are made for it, but it is not greater nor more powerful than any other factor of your business. It can't do the impossible. If you expect to get any good from it you must keep it on the job, make it work while you sleep."

The Best Guarantee You Can Get

with any article is the Unwritten Guarantee. The guarantee that years of satisfactory service has been made. If you want a flowery guarantee written with gilded ink on fine bond paper, buy a fraud. If it is necessary for the fraud to guarantee you a lot of richly painted stuff in order to get your business. Do you want a guarantee with a Stetson Hat, A Singer Sewing Machine or a Packard Automobile? No, you don't. Why? Because you know these articles are right and always have been, and if you were to buy one of these articles that was wrong it would be made right without any argument. Nice satisfactory way to do business ain't it. Do you know of any one with one of our buggies that is not satisfied, that thinks he got a dirty deal, that thinks he paid for something he didn't get, or thinks we are rough to do business with? If you know a man of this kind we want to see him because every buggy we sell has to be satisfactory. That is why your neighbors buy their buggies from us. They know—they have had the experience and realize the fact that buying their buggies from us means satisfaction. We have a nice line of STORM BUGGIES for you to make a selection from and want you to see them before you buy, then if you buy one of our buggies you will be a satisfied customer the rest of your life. Watch our satisfied customers make our Buggy business grow.

MAKES REPORT PUBLIC TODAY

Gilbert Hendren Makes Accounting to Governor of Work of State Board of Accounts.

STATE LAW IS COMMENDED

Total Expense of Department During Last Fiscal Year $226,470.90.

Report Reveals.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Dec. 28.—The many critics of the Indiana public accounting law and its administration will find little to please them in the fourth annual report of the State Board of Accounts as submitted to Governor Ralston by Gilbert H. Hendren, state examiner, and made public today. The report covers the period between Oct. 1, 1912, and Sept. 30, 1914, and is highly commendatory to the law. It contains statements by the four originators of the law and from the two examiners appointed by the Governor, who inspected the administration of the accounts of the various state, county and township officers.

The report shows that the total expense of the department during the last fiscal year was $226,470.90 incident to the examining of 6,522 public offices and institutions throughout the state, helping to establish a uniform system of accounts, aiding through the legal department of hundreds of officials and preventing waste and diversion of public funds, according to the report.

During the same period of time, the report says, there was recovered from delinquent officials in cash the sum of $186,044.25, and pending on the dockets in process of settlement, $181,963.45. It is declared that the cash amount, taken with the collections from the amount on the books, will considerably more than defray the entire expense of the department.

While in some counties, the report says, but few errors are found, and the expense of the examination must be paid, the taxpayers have the satisfaction of knowing that their officials are honest and efficient and that their accounts are in good condition. In many other counties, according to the report, the errors found amount to three and four times the expense of examination.

The report adds:

"Thus it appears that even the man who never sees any good in any law, except the visible dollars and cents, should be satisfied with the results of last year's examination by the State Board of Accounts."

A letter from the farmers of the bill—William C. Bobbs, head of the firm of Bobbs-Merrill Co.; Evans Wollen, president of the Fletcher Savings and Trust Co.; Hugh Dougherty, vice president of that company, and James W. Noel, Indianapolis attorney, written by Mr. Hendren, congratulates him "on what appears to be most efficient administration of this very important law" and declares that the law "is conceded to be a model of its kind and superior to the accounting law of any state in the union."

"It seems to us" the letter says;

that this law has entirely fulfilled the prophecy of those who labored so hard for its enactment and that it has entirely justified the hope of the business men of the state that public business might be carried on with the care and economy necessary to make private and corporate business successful."

"The beneficial effects of the operation of this law and the fine administration of your department cannot be recounted in a short letter. The enactment of the Accounting Law marks a new epoch in the conduct of the public business, and we simply desire to express our satisfaction which have ensued."

This department was examined by fact with the practical results order of Governor Ralston, who appointed Harry L. Arnold, a democrat and John E. Reed, Republican, both accountants, to go over the books of the department and look into its methods. Mr. Reed is vice president and general manager of the Farmers' Trust Company and Mr. Arnold was for nine years with the Elkhart National bank. Their report is printed in Hendren's report. The following are some excerpts:

"Hon. Gilbert H. Henderson, by reason of his acquired knowledge with regard to the duties of public officers is a valued public servant and ideally equipped to perform the important duties incumbent upon the office of State Examiner."

"We have carefully examined the list of examiners retained and those dismissed and find that Mr. Hendren gives everybody a square deal, regardless of political affiliations."

District Attorney Frank C. Dailey said that the men who do not give bond will be confined in jail here until some time near the middle of January when he expects that they will be arraigned before Judge Anderson in Federal Court. The Federal Grand Jury will reconvene to con-said the date for arraigning the men has not been set definitely.

Marshal Storen said that he expects to make no more arrests today.
It was intimated that more arrests will follow, but some of the men are either ill or are not in Terre Haute.
He assured newspaper men, however, that a large majority of the men indicted now are under arrest, and that it will not be necessary for him to return to Terre Haute with a large number of deputies.

the outskirts served to drive the defenders into the city for a final battle.

Twenty-one Player Rule of Big Leagues Will Cut Off Many Promising Players.

NO CHANCE TO SHOW WORTH

Central Association and Three League Still Furnish Market With Good Players.

(Written for United Press.)
BY HAL SHERIDAN.

New York, Dec. 28.—The twenty-one player limit invoked by the National League at its recent meeting here will cut off many a promising youngster from his chances with a big team. Practically every team in the league has already signed from thirty to fifty players. The number must be cut to twenty-one by May 1. Many of the youngsters whom managers would like to retain during the season will get the ax before they have an opportunity of showing their worth.

The Central Association and the Three-I League are still furnishing the player market with "comers."

W. L. Flannigan, who pitched for the Muscatine team last year in the Central Association, has been signed by the Giants. His six feet odd inches of height and a lightening like delivery are said to be his features.

McGraw also signed up Eddie Holloway from the Springfield team of the Three-I league. Last year Holloway made good as a fast man and a hard hitter.

Around the lobbies of the Waldorf and the Imperial during the meetings of the National and International Leagues here were seen many of the western big leaguers, released after years of baseball service. Mike Donlin and Wiltse of the Giants were hand pondering their prospects for the coming season. Both were gingerly fingering their unconditional release. Germany Schaffer, the comedian of the Washington Club, will be missed next year. Many a laugh burst from the fans when Germany was indulging in his favorite "horse play."

SPECIAL MUSIC
AT CHURCHES

Sermons by Rushville Pastors Are Also Appropriate to the Spirit of the Season.

FORMER MUSICIANS HERE

A. D. Batchelor Declares That Christ Was the Only Truly Versatile Man Who Ever Lived.

The Sunday schools of the city gave their members their annual Christmas treat yesterday. The custom has been to remember the members of the school at the Christmas entertainments but this year they were called off on account of some cases of scarlet fever here.

At least one of the sermons at all of the churches yesterday dealt with the topic of the season. Special Christmas music was also the rule. There were special programs at the Main Street Christian church Sunday morning and evening by former Rushville musicians who are here for the holidays which attracted large crowds. In the morning of the Christian church the Rev. Walter E. Fruzee of Louisville, Ky., preached on "The Call For Life."

Yesterday was the last Sunday the First Presbyterian church will be without a pastor for the Rev. D. Ira Lambert of Cincinnati will take up his duties here next Sunday, the first of the new year. The Rev. Wm. McKibbin of Lane Theological seminary of Cincinnati spoke there twice yesterday.

The sermons at the United Presbyterian church were very appropriate. In the morning the Rev. A. W. Jamieson spoke on "The Lapse of a Year" and in the evening, "The Early Life of Christ." There was a special musical program at the M. E. church last night, with a short talk by the pastor.

The Christmas exercises that were to have been given by the United Presbyterian Sabbath school were held yesterday, morning and last night. It was essentially a quaint exercise and the "White-Gifts-for-Our-King" program was used.

At the morning service one person gave herself and many rededicated themselves to Christ and numerous pledges of service along various lines of church activity were made. The cash pledges amounted to almost fifty dollars, twenty dollars of which was given for obtaining additional equipment for the primary department, the remainder going to the various missionary and educational enterprises of the church. In the evening an illustrated lecture on the early life of Christ was given.

Yesterday morning at St. Paul's Methodist church, the Rev. A. D. Batchelor had for his theme, "The Greatness of Christ." The text was Luke: 32, "He shall be great and of his kingdom there shall be no end."

He said in part: "The world honors its great men. True greatness can never be suppressed. Sooner or later a great man's achievements will be acknowledged. When the world has once found a great man it makes pilgrimages to the place of his birth, to the haunts of his childhood, to the field of his work, and to his last resting place—his tomb. What does all this mean but that the world tries to get nearer to the great man, that it may discover the secret of his power, and perchance get an inspiration from his life? At most this is a one-sided work; for men are great in only particular lines. One becomes a great warrior, another a statesman, another financier, and another an inventor. There are a thousand highways to greatness and to fame. But there was one who would have succeeded in any vocation, who would have adorned any profession. He was the only truly versatile man who ever lived. His greatness does not decline with any age. Each succeeding generation marvels at the range of his wonderful powers. His name was Jesus. The prophet said he 'shall be great and of his kingdom there shall be no end.'

You will be prepared to throw a solid, steady stream upon the flames. Moreover, you can use the pump to wash buggy, wagon and window, sprinkle the lawn and for other chores.

always counted its prophets as its greatest men. The prophet was a forth-teller more than a fore-teller. The prophets were first called seers. They saw things which were hidden from other men. Huskin said: "The greatest thing that a human soul ever does in this world is to see something and tell it in a plain way—to see clearly it poetry, prophecy and religion." Jesus was a prophet. He saw deeply and clearly. Moreover he had the ruggedness of the prophet. We have let his gentleness obscure for us this element in his life. But a close study of the gospels reveals a refreshing ruggedness in his life. He boldly drove the money changers out of the temple, and defiantly reproved the sins of hypocritical Pharisees. This is why the common people heard him gladly, and why thou came to believe in him. John the Revelator, had the true view of him when he wrote, "The testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy." He was also great because he was a poet. Carlyle wrote, "Poetry we call musical thought. The poet is he who thinks in that manner. It is a man's sincerity and depth of vision that makes him a poet." Jesus was in every sense of the word a poet. He had a poet's vision of the harmony of things. He saw more clearly than any other the confusion and disorder sin had brought into the world. He saw the harmony of the divine life and how this alone would bring men into supreme happiness. He also had the poet's lyrical expression. The sermon on the Mount is a poem and can easily be divided into metrical sentences. What poet ever uttered or wrote anything superior to Jesus' words, "Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin; yet I say unto you Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these."

Again, he was great because he was a king. In the text he is so designated. Moreover the greatness of his kingship was measured by the fact that his kingdom was never to end. The word king comes from "canning." It means "the man who can," or the man who is able." The world is gradually renouncing the old doctrine of the divine right of kings. Some day it will forever put aside the thought that men must succeed to kingship through the accident of birth. History shows that too many "accidents" have befallen kingdoms which took the doctrine literally. The future nations will demand able men for rulers—the men who "can." In this sense Jesus is the world's greatest king. His whole history is the story of one who "could." Nothing was too hard for him. He was sufficient for all trials and tests. Of all the inhabitants of heaven he alone was able to break the seal and to save a world from its sin. He was able for the crucifixion and the resurrection. "He is able also to save them to the uttermost who come to God by him." No other has been able to do this. He stands alone in his greatness.

CHARLES F. MANN DIES SUDDENLY

POSTOFFICE DOES GREATER BUSINESS

Posey Township Farmer Expires of Peritonitis at Age of Fifty and Funeral is Held Today.

LEAVES WIDOW AND TWO SONS

PARCEL POST IS THE CAUSE

Charles F. Mann, age fifty years, died rather unexpectedly at his home in Posey township Saturday evening of peritonitis. There were contributing causes to his death, however. Last summer, Mr. Mann was struck by lightning, and from the effects of this he never fully recovered. In addition to this, he suffered from rheumatism and had been stricken slightly with paralysis. He had been in poor health for some time, but became seriously ill only last Thursday morning, and the members of the family were little expecting the call of the death angel when it entered the home and took away the husband and father.

Deceased was a son of the late George and Hanah Mann, and was born on July 11, 1864, in Shelby county, Ohio. When he was quite young, his parents removed to Shelby county, Indiana, where he spent nearly all of his life, removing to his late home in Rush county only a few years ago.

Mr. Mann is survived by two sons, a widow, two brothers and one sister. The funeral services were held this afternoon at two o'clock at Forest Hill chapel with the Rev. Alphonso Burns of Gwynneville officiating. Burial was in Forest Hill cemetery.

Since the employees of the postoffice have had a chance to get their breath and take stock of what they accomplished during the Christmas rush, they are certain in their own minds that they handled far more mail during the holiday season this year than ever before in the history of the postoffice in Rushville. Although they did not take the time to keep accurate account of all of the parcels handled during the rush, the best estimate placed on the business done at least one-third more packages passed through the Rushville postoffice this year.

The rural mail carriers, too, were swamped with the large number of parcels which they delivered and collected. The increase from year to year is due to the increasing popularity of the parcel post system. The stamp sale was larger this year, indicating the outgoing business was much greater because parcel post system. The stamp sale was larger this year, indicating the outgoing business was much greater because parcel post rates have been decreased since last year. The mail is still heavy as the result of delayed Christmas gifts, but it is nothing compared to what it was just before Christmas.

He is survived by his widow and three children, Court, Omer and Mrs. John Newman. The funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at the late residence and burial will take place in the upper cemetery which adjoins the residence.

Coroner Barnett was called and pronounced death from apoplexy. He had been dead only a short time when found.

He is survived by his widow and three children, Court, Omer and Mrs. John Newman. The funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at the late residence and burial will take place in the upper cemetery which adjoins the residence.
